On a blustery wintery day the Boss Team showed up at the prestigious 28th annual Grand Prix de Valcourt in Valcourt, Quebec to record crowds. Turcotte displayed the first stages of what would become a predictable pattern by Sunday. Heat One – 1st, Heat 2–1st- entering the main event as the lead contender. During the main event- Turcotte grabbed the hole-shot and held the front position throughout the race- winning the Friday Night Shoot-Out.

In Pro Stock racing Turcotte again displayed a 1st place win in both heat races, entering the main event in the number one slot. During the Main event, Turcotte had a poor holeshot, advanced through the field to third, bumped another rider on the track- and was black flagged- leading up to much drama for the Pro Open finale on Sunday.
